Types of Requests

There are six types of requests handled by Zoning Administration staff and the Zoning Board of Adjustment as authorized by Chapters 4, 5, and 10 of the Charlotte Zoning Ordinance. Below, please find a brief description of each request type.

1. Variance Request: This is a request to vary the standards of the Zoning Ordinance per Chapter 5 of the Zoning Ordinance. One common variance request is for an applicant to seek relief from a front setback or side/rear yard requirement.

Process: Complete forms 1 and 2 and submit with the required materials indicated on the Variance Request Checklist included in this packet; timeline approximately 2 – 3 months.

Requirements for Approval (all four must be true to demonstrate a hardship):

1. There is unnecessary hardship from the strict application of the ordinance. It is not necessary to demonstrate that, no reasonable use can be made of the property without the variance; and
2. The hardship results from conditions that are peculiar to the property, such as location, size, or topography. Hardships that result from personal circumstances, or conditions common to the neighborhood or general public, may not be the basis for granting a variance; and
3. The hardship did not result from actions taken by the applicant or the property owner. Purchasing property with knowledge of circumstances that may justify a variance shall not be regarded as a self-created hardship; and
4. The request is consistent with the spirit, purpose, and intent of the ordinance, such that public safety is secured, and substantial justice is achieved.

Decision Maker: Zoning Board of Adjustment

2. Floodplain Ordinance Variance Request: This is a request for a grant of relief from the requirements of the Mecklenburg County Floodplain Ordinance per 9-87 of the Floodplain Ordinance.

Process: Complete forms 1 and 3 and submit the required materials as indicated on the variance request checklist included in this packet. Process in in coordination with Charlotte-Mecklenburg Storm Water Services; timeline approximately 2 – 3 months.

Requirements for Approval (all three must be true to demonstrate a hardship):

1. There is a showing of good and sufficient cause to grant the variance; and
2. There is a determination that failure to grant the variance would result in exceptional hardship; and
3. There is a determination that granting the variance will not result in increased flood heights (unless the requirements of Section 9-102(a)(6) are met), additional threats to public safety, extraordinary public expense, create nuisance, cause fraud on or victimization of the public, or conflict with other existing local laws or ordinances.

(The fact that the property could be utilized more profitably or conveniently with the Variance than without the Variance shall not be considered as grounds for granting the Variance.)

Decision maker: Zoning Board of Adjustment

3. Appeal Request: This type of request, found in Chapter 5 of the Zoning Ordinance, is initiated when an applicant feels that the Zoning Administrator, enforcement officer or plans reviewer has made an error in applying the standards of the zoning ordinance.

Process: Complete forms 1 and 4 and submit with the required materials indicated on the Appeal Request Checklist included in this packet; timeline approximately 2 – 3 months.

Requirements: An error in the application of the ordinance must be found in order to reverse the decision of the Zoning Administrator, enforcement officer or plans reviewer.

Decision Maker: Zoning Board of Adjustment

4. Appeal of Historic District Commission Decision (HDC) Action: Section 10.213 of the zoning ordinance authorizes the Zoning Board of Adjustment to hear appeals from an HDC decision granting or denying a Certificate of Appropriateness by any aggrieved party who believes the HDC has made an error in their decision.

Process: Complete forms 1 and 4 and submit with verbatim transcripts of each HDC meeting related to the Certificate of Appropriateness. Process is in coordination with the city attorney's office. In addition to meeting transcripts, applicants should submit the required materials indicated on the Appeal Request Checklist included in this packet; timeline approximately 90 to 120 days.

Requirements: Applicant must obtain and pay for verbatim transcript of all related HDC meetings.

Decision Maker: Zoning Board of Adjustment

5. Administrative Deviation Request: Section 4.107 of the Zoning Ordinance authorizes the Zoning Administrator to provide limited relief from quantifiable ordinance requirements. There are four types of administrative deviations:

1. Yard, buffers, and Encroachments of 2 feet (3 feet for HVAC units)

Requirement: Applicant must provide proof of inadvertent error(s) that occurred during construction

2. Up to 5% Deviation for Specific Quantifiable Ordinance Requirements

Requirement: At least one must be true with proof provided by applicant:

- The physical contours of the street, the land, or some other topographical or geographical feature is the basis for a surveying or other inadvertent error.
- The physical layout of the land and the structures upon the land are such that the ordinance requirement cannot be met.
- Because of the nature of the abutting property or intervening topographical or geographical features, the application of the ordinance requirement would not serve a useful purpose.
- The applicant has agreed to measures that would ameliorate the deviation from complete compliance with the ordinance requirement.

3. Handicap Ramp Encroachments in Setback or Yard

Requirement: Ramp is required by law and there is no other reasonable location.

4. Restoration/Replacement of Historic Features

Requirement: Existing feature located on a structure located in a Historic District Overlay or on a Historic Landmark Designated by the Charlotte Mecklenburg Landmarks Commission. Feature must be substantiated by documentary, physical or pictorial evidence.

Process: Complete forms 1 and 5 and submit with the required materials indicated on the Administrative Deviation Request Checklist included in this packet; timeline approximately 1 month.

Decision Maker: Zoning Administrator

6. Variance Extension Request – (Submit form 1 and Request Letter)

A decision of the Board granting a variance shall automatically expire if a building permit is required, pertaining to the need for the variance, and is not obtained within two years from the date of the meeting at which the Board rendered its decision. Section 5.111 of the Zoning Ordinance authorizes the Zoning Administrator to approve an extension of a variance entitlement beyond the two-year expiration date.

Process: Complete form 1 and submit with a request letter for the extension; Follow process in Zoning Ordinance Section 4.107(4); timeline approximately 1 month.

Requirements: Request letter demonstrating that the circumstances for the granting of the variance have not changed and would allow the issuance of the permit.

Decision Maker: Zoning Administrator

Variance Request Checklist and Instructions

Limitations: The Board of Adjustment shall not grant a variance which would allow the establishment of a use which is not otherwise permitted in the district, would result in the extension or expansion of a nonconforming use, or would change the district boundary, or zoning classification of any or all of the subject property.

Instructions

1. Fill out the form completely. Because the board must find evidence to support each of the questions/statements, the answer “not applicable” is generally not acceptable and will delay your request.
2. In order for the Board to grant a variance, an unnecessary land hardship must be demonstrated.

Zoning Ordinance Variance: Per Section 5.108 of the zoning ordinance, only the following conditions shall constitute a hardship (all must be met):

- a. There is unnecessary hardship from the strict application of the ordinance. It is not necessary to demonstrate that, no reasonable use can be made of the property without the variance; and
- b. The hardship results from conditions that are peculiar to the property, such as location, size, or topography. Hardships that result from personal circumstances, or conditions common to the neighborhood or general public, may not be the basis for granting a variance; and
- c. The hardship did not result from actions taken by the applicant or the property owner. Purchasing property with knowledge of circumstances that may justify a variance shall not be regarded as a self-created hardship; and
- d. The request is consistent with the spirit, purpose, and intent of the ordinance, such that public safety is secured, and substantial justice is achieved.

Floodplain Ordinance Variance: Per Section 9-87 of the Mecklenburg County Floodplain Ordinance all three of the following must be true to demonstrate a hardship:

- a. There is a showing of good and sufficient cause to grant the variance; and
- b. There is a determination that failure to grant the variance would result in exceptional hardship; and
- c. There is a determination that granting the variance will not result in increased flood heights (unless the requirements of Section 9-102(a)(6) are met), additional threats to public safety, extraordinary public expense, create nuisance, cause fraud on or victimization of the public, or conflict with other existing local laws or ordinances.

The fact that the property could be utilized more profitably or conveniently with the Variance than without the Variance shall not be considered as grounds for granting the Variance.

Checklist

- 5 copies of your signed application (includes one original) and all required materials (per the applicable checklist) must be submitted for your submission to be considered complete. Please fold larger maps and other materials to 8 ½ x 14 inch size.
- If applicable, attach a copy of your permit or plan review comments if this variance resulted from a permit or plan denial.
- If this is a new construction project or requested to do so in your pre application meeting, attach an address verification form available by contacting 704-336-6175.
- A survey or to scale site plan must be included. The survey or site plan should include:
 - all existing buildings and structures on the property
 - all easements for streets, utilities, driveways and others
 - all proposed improvements should be drawn on the survey or site plan to scale
 - shade in the map to highlight the portion of the improvements that are subject to the requested variance (i.e. for a setback variance, the amount beyond the setback line)
- Architectural drawings are strongly encouraged to assist the Board in determining if the request is in harmony with the surrounding neighborhood.

Additional Information

- If applicable, construction must stop on portions of a project in violation of the zoning ordinance.
- If this variance request is a result of a violation, enforcement action will pause until decision on the case.
- Once a case has been heard, the Board may not hear the same case for a period of two years.
- Appropriate conditions may be imposed on any variance that are reasonably related to the variance.

Glossary of Terms

Conflict of Interest. Close familial, business or other associational relationship with the affected person, or a financial interest in the outcome of a matter.

Evidence. A quasi-judicial decision must be based on evidence that is:

- Competent: trustworthy and reliable.
- Material: related to the standards.
- Substantial: Sufficient to support a conclusion.

Ex Parte Communication. When a board member communicates about the case (to an applicant or other person involved) outside the evidentiary hearing at the ZBA meeting in which the case is heard. This should be avoided and must be disclosed at the hearing if it occurs.

Hardship. North Carolina General Statute section 160A-388\(d\) sets forth the standards for granting a zoning variance. These mandatory standards apply to zoning variances for all counties and municipalities in the state of North Carolina. Under this statute, a board of adjustment shall vary the provisions of the zoning ordinance if strict application of the ordinance would create unnecessary hardship. In order to obtain the variance, the applicant must show all of the requirements of approval found on page one of this document are true to demonstrate a hardship.

Please note: Floodplain Ordinance hardship requirements are found on page one of this document and differ from zoning. North Carolina General Statutes Parts 3, 5, and 8 of Article 19 of Chapter 160A sets forth the standards of floodplain regulations, and are designed to promote the public health, safety, and general welfare.

Hearsay Evidence. Emails, letters or other reported statements from individuals not present at the ZBA (Zoning Board of Adjustment) meeting. A person needs to be present at the ZBA hearing for their testimony to be considered in a determination. There is an exception for technical reports from experts (arborists, engineers, etc.) and analysis from government officials (Department of Transportation, Charlotte Mecklenburg Water Quality, etc.), which should be included in the record.

Party of Standing. Includes: person with legal interest in the property; applicant; city or county; person who will suffer special damages because of the decision; an association organized to promote the interests of a particular area (Homeowners association or neighborhood group).

Quasi-judicial Decision. Process of deciding how the general law applies to a particular situation based on an evidentiary record, or sworn testimony.

Sworn Testimony. Testimony gathered by persons at the hearing who have been sworn in, which means they have taken an oath in front of the board and members of the audience to tell the truth. Attorneys do not have to be sworn in to speak at the hearing.

Authorized Practice Advisory Opinion 2006-1

October 20, 2006

Quasi-Judicial Hearings on Zoning and Land Use

Inquiry:

May a person who is not a lawyer appear before planning boards, boards of adjustment, or other governmental bodies conducting quasi-judicial hearings in a representative capacity for another party?

Opinion:

At its October 2005 meeting, the Authorized Practice Committee responded to an inquiry concerning the propriety of a person who is not a lawyer appearing before planning boards, boards of adjustment, and city and county government in a representative capacity. The committee's advisory opinion distinguished appearances on legislative concerns, such as general rezoning cases and ordinance amendments, from appearances on behalf of petitioners for special use permits and variances, which are quasi-judicial matters. The committee has received comments from a number of interested parties, including architects, land use planners, and city and county attorneys as a result of that opinion. The committee is issuing this advisory opinion to supplement the prior opinion.

The committee has received comments from a number of interested parties, including architects, land use planners, and city and county attorneys as a result of that opinion. The committee is issuing this advisory opinion to supplement the prior opinion.

First, the committee reiterates that the adoption of ordinances and amendments to official zoning maps (i.e. general rezoning cases) by the elected officials in city and county governments are legislative in nature and that any interested person may appear and speak on such matters before governmental bodies, even as representatives of groups or interested parties, without engaging in the unauthorized practice of law. Nonetheless, the general statutory prohibitions on unauthorized practice of law still apply even to persons who appear before governmental bodies on legislative matters. Non-lawyers may not hold themselves out as attorneys, provide legal services or advice, or draft any legal documents with regard to such matters. See N.C. Gen. Stat. §§ 84 2.1 and 4.

The law is clear that hearings on applications for special use permits and variances under zoning ordinances, as well as appeals from staff level interpretations related to permits, are quasi-judicial proceedings. N.C. Gen. Stat. §§ 153A-345 and 160A-381 and 388. See, Humble Oil & Refining Co. v. Bd. of Aldermen of Chapel Hill, 284 N.C. 458, 202 S.E.2d 129 (1974) and Woodhouse v. Board of Comm'rs of Nags Head, 299 N.C. 211, 261 S.E.2d 882 (1980). (For simplicity, the quasi-judicial hearings before these bodies are hereafter referenced to as a "variance hearing" unless the context indicates otherwise.) The governmental body before which the variance hearing is conducted sits in a judicial role of applying the standards of an ordinance to the particular circumstances of a particular party. Accordingly, the role of the governmental body is to receive evidence and make decisions based upon the evidence presented.

Variance hearings require the governmental body hearing the matter to observe certain formalities. Evidence, including witness evidence, is presented to the hearing body, although the Rules of Evidence need not be strictly observed. All witnesses before the body must be sworn and their testimony is subject to cross-examination. The hearing body has the power and authority to issue subpoenas to compel witness testimony. A record of the proceedings must be preserved. The decision is to be based upon the evidence presented at an open hearing, and not on extraneous matters or personal knowledge of the members of the board. The applicant has the burden of proof. The board must make written findings of fact to support its decision. And, the decision of the board is reviewable by the courts on appeal based solely upon the record of the proceedings.

The committee believes that the law is also clear that an appearance on behalf of another person, firm, or corporation in a representative capacity for the presentation of evidence through others, cross-examination of witnesses, and argument on the law at a quasi-judicial proceeding is the practice of law. N.C. Gen. Stat. §§ 84 2.1 and 4. Consequently, because the variance hearings are by definition quasi-judicial proceedings, the committee concludes that it is the unauthorized practice of law for someone other than a licensed attorney to appear in a representative capacity to advocate the legal position of another person, firm, or corporation that is a party to the proceeding.

The committee has been urged to recognize that architects, landscape architects, land use planners, and engineers play a vital role at these quasi-judicial proceedings by presenting necessary facts and information on behalf of their clients at variance hearings. The committee agrees that the information these professionals can present is critical to the decision before the hearing body. These professionals are subject matter experts whose expert opinions, as witnesses, must be presented to the hearing body. They are witnesses who are in the best position to explain to the hearing body the facts of the proposed design and its anticipated effects on a variety of factors, including traffic, environment, and aesthetics, within the framework of matters properly under consideration at the variance hearing. The committee does not believe that the role of legal advocate by attorneys in quasi-judicial proceedings should interfere with or inhibit the role of non-lawyer professionals who speak as witnesses and present information at these quasi-judicial proceedings. In fact, their roles should be complementary.

It is axiomatic that the committee has no authority to amend or formulate exceptions to the statutes. In issuing an advisory opinion, it simply articulates how it believes a court would ultimately resolve the question for the guidance of the public. The committee cannot recognize or create exceptions to the law as expressed by the legislature and the courts. Further, we believe, as a practical matter, that effective representation of parties in variance hearings is becoming increasingly dependent upon legal advocacy of the rights of the parties with an eye toward compiling a supportable record in the event of an appeal. These are the skills an attorney provides. While it is true that many of these hearings involve routine and non-controversial matters, even questions about matters such as the height of residential fences may become the subject matter of an appeal where the appellate courts may only consider the record produced at the variance hearing. See Robertson v. Zoning Board of Adjustment for the City of Charlotte, 167 N.C. App. 531, 605 S.E.2d 723 (2004). It is difficult to predict in advance when a matter may require a comprehensive record for appellate purposes. Therefore, with this further elaboration, the committee re-affirms its initial opinion expressed by letter dated October 31, 2005, that the representation of another person at a quasi-judicial hearing is the practice of law.

That said, this opinion should not be interpreted to diminish the role and expertise of land use professionals as witnesses at variance hearings. These professionals may still present their evidence in support of the position of their clients. However, they may not examine or cross-examine other witnesses or advocate the legal position of their clients.

The committee's opinion is also not intended to affect the ability of city and county planning staff to present factual information to the hearing board, including a recitation of the procedural posture of the application, and to offer such opinions as they may be qualified to make without an attorney for the government present, as the committee understands is the proper, current practice and role of the planning staff. Further, nothing in this opinion should be interpreted as limiting the ability of a corporate officer or employee from testifying on factual matters on behalf of a corporate party during a hearing or suggesting that individual parties may not represent themselves before these boards.

In sum, the committee is of the opinion that land use professionals, including architects, engineers, and land use planners, may appear and testify as to factual matters and any expert opinions that they are qualified to present at quasi-judicial proceedings, but the presentation of other evidence, including the examination and cross-examination of witnesses, making legal arguments, and the advocacy for results on behalf of others before quasi-judicial zoning and land use hearings, is the practice of law that may be performed only by licensed attorneys at law.
