Pollinator habitats and naturalistic landscapes support bees, butterflies, and other wildlife — while helping protect local waterways. These landscapes often require less water, fertilizer, pesticides and mowing than traditional lawns.

If your pollinator habitat is well maintained and follows the city's guidelines, we want to recognize your work!

Approved habitats may qualify for an exemption from the nuisance vegetation ordinance and will receive a city yard sign to display.

If a qualifying habitat receives a notice of violation, the owner has 30 days to receive approval through the registry to avoid further enforcement.
